Good morning Year 5, welcome to the last week of English home learning! You've all done a fantastic job of working hard all the way through the school closure, well done!

Spelling

Can you give yourself a spelling test on these wr words? If a family member can test you, they could read each word out while you write it down – if your family are busy doing their own work at the moment, you could do look, cover, write, check and test yourself.

1. wrangle

9. wraith

2. wring

10. wrathfully

3. wreckage

11. wrinkle

4. wrapping

12. wreaking

5. wrath

13. wreath

6. wretched

14. wrongly

7. wriggling

15. wry

8. wrenching

16. wren

Note – Tomorrow, you are going to be writing your Julius Caesar trailer – make sure you have your storyboard with you! So, if you are sometimes at home and sometimes at school, just make sure that you have your storyboard with you wherever you are tomorrow!

Main Activity 1

Today, we are going to think about expanded noun phrases for one last time this year. To start with, can you sort these phrases into ones that are ENP and ones that are not?

the great city of Rome on the hillside	the devious soldier who was called Cassius	the furious crowd screaming for Caesar	the defeated, scattered army across the plains
eight sharpened daggers beneath heavy cloaks.	the lonely, hooting owl on the garden wall	a fake letter on the floor of Brutus' room	eight conspirators determined to assassinate Caesar
the misty morning of the Ides of March	the mysterious Soothsayer whispering to Caesar	Mark Antony's furious speech to the Roman crowd	Caesar's last friend who was Brutus

Main Activity 2

Can you think of 5 of your own expanded noun phrases (adjective, noun , preposition) about the Julius Caesar play and include them in 5 sentences.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

Challenge - Will any of your sentences fit into your trailer? Why or why not?
