Main Activity

Today, you are going to think about how to perform your Julius Caesar trailer. I'll put some options for you here.

If you have a tablet or a smartphone, you could hold it over each section of your storyboard and film the pictures as still images whilst you read your trailer script over the top. You might have to ask to borrow someone else's phone or tablet if you want the music to play over it at the same time.	If you have brothers, sisters or parents at home who have some free time, you could get each person to act a different part in your trailer and really film it being acted! Then you could play the music over the top whilst the acting is happening and, again, you could film it on a smartphone or a tablet.	If you want to film some more "acting" not still images, then you could use toys that you have at home to be the different characters and film them "acting" the scene. We could have lego Julius Caesar, or playmobil Julius Caesar!

Remember – you also have your Music that you picked out from yesterday – can you use a phone / tablet / speakers to play that while you read out your script so it can be part of the trailer too?

If you do make a great trailer and want to send it to school, you could email it to Jose and I'm sure she'll kindly show them to me.

Have fun!
